A misplaced periodical here; a bruised apple there. It's hard to believe the rows of computer carrels in the Hennepin County Eden Prairie Library were once fruit and vegetable aisles in a Lund's grocery store. Hailed by the Star Tribune as "...the latest and most unusual of a systematic redo of Hennepin County Library's 26 holdings..." Hennepin County sought the expertise of Henricksen PSG to furnish the Twin Cities' most significant library conversion in recent memory.

Bentz/Thomson/Rietow partnered with Hennepin County to design an award-winning transformation that tastefully integrates contemporary design. Henricksen PSG oversaw project management and installation processes, and provided design support to select finishes and applications accordingly. Suggestive of millwork traditionally found in libraries, the space is framed with warm wood veneers and custom ash tiles that match building finishes. Atypical of most libraries, modular furniture provides a fresh, non-traditional appeal and creates an environment patrons will want to linger in long after they've checked out their books.
